Each day, more than 59 million students, teachers and education employees spend considerable time in our nation's schools. With school enrollment projected to increase at record levels through 2013, and spending on school construction, renovation and maintenance expected to total nearly $30 billion annually, the need to transform our schools has never been more urgent.

The Schools of the 21st Century Symposium is clearly designed to make a difference:

- School spending trends
- Making the most of your money
- New trends in school design
- "Greening" schools
- Energy efficiency
- Air quality
- Lighting and acoustics
- Plus, case studies
